MEMBER PROFILE: STEVEN KELTS

You can take the boy off the Farm, but.... Six years after arriving in DC, Steven remains active in WDCSA activities. With his Ph.D. in Political Science from Stanford, he came here for an assistant professorship at the George Washington University. And along the way, he has played on the local Stanford club's softball team, coached its flag football team, and organized a number of club events (from happy hour cruises to holiday parties to faculty speeches) for his fellow Stanford alums and friends.

Steven's particular interest is community service. He serves as the club's co-chair of community service with Christina Russell, '96, organizing monthly events. At GW, he has volunteered with the Office of Community Service and led groups of students on alternative school breaks. The students give up their spring break or part of their winter break to help those in need anywhere from New Orleans to Ecuador.

Stanford alums are giving back to the University, DC and world communities. Join us at one of our next service events!

Last year's team raised more than $700 to fight this disease, and this year we're confident we can do even more!

Walk Now organizes fundraising walks in every state, Canada and the UK. It is a family-friendly event so bring everyone along. There are activities for the children, resources for families of autistic children, light refreshments and entertainment. For more information, or to sign up for the team, email Steven Kelts at kelts@gwu.edu.
